“I can speak to any teacher within the school and I know that they will do everything they can to support me”

I study Graphic design, Art & Design and English Literature. I love the freedom that you are given as a Sixth Form student and how much more mature the environment of Sixth Form is compared to lower down the school. I chose to stay at Thomas More because I knew the teachers and knew that if I needed help then they would do everything they could to help me. Since I started Sixth Form I have felt like my relationship with teachers has changed to be more informal, whilst maintaining professionalism, the style I expect to experience when I leave education and move into the world of work.

A normal day for me usually consists of at least one lesson for each subject and, not going to lie, a lot of work. However the resources and equipment that Sixth Form students have access to allows me to complete the work effectively within the time it needs to be done. There is always something to do at Sixth Form, there is of course the common room, however you cannot let the work get on top of you. Therefore I usually go to either the library or one of my classrooms to get on with coursework, homework or university applications.

I would highly recommend St Thomas More for your sixth form. They will give you the resources and the help needed to get the A-levels that you need to push you on to a career beyond college or university. Not only that but the teachers are there to support you with any issues you might have outside of school; I know that if I am ever worried about anything I can speak to any teacher within the school and I know that they will do everything they can to support me.
